

Some of the benefits of being a COPA member

The Canadian Owners & Pilot's Association would like to thank you for your interest in joining the largest Association for pilots and aircraft owners in Canada. Through your membership, you will be adding your voice to the thousands of aircraft owner's, pilots and enthusiasts who want to protect our freedom to fly.

Ten important reasons why Canadian pilots should be members of COPA

By joining COPA you support an association that:

1. Works diligently to protect your rights and privileges to enjoy the freedom of Canadian airspace.
2. Strives for a minimum number of regulations and the reduction of government control over General Aviation.
3. Attempts to lower the cost of flying to make General Aviation a more practical means of personal transportation for Canadians.
4. Communicates on a daily basis with government departments to make legislators and regulators aware of the importance of drafting only progressive rules and regulations.
5. Promotes greater air safety through education and information.
6. Assists all other General Aviation organizations to meet their respective aims and objectives.
7. Believes in giving all members their say in how the organization should be run.
8. Helps to make the benefits of General Aviation more understandable and acceptable to the public in order to garner their support.
9. Is dedicated to improve flying facilities from coast to coast.
10. Supports you, the COPA Member.

COPA members get real value for their membership dues. In addition to our lobbying efforts for your freedom to fly, COPA has negotiated special discounts with suppliers of services in order to give you even more value for your money.
